Hello all and welcome to the RAILS board meeting. This is Friday, June 19, 2020 and I am Paul Mills, President of the RAILS Board called the meeting to order at 1:05 p.m. He read the following: The Governor issued Executive Order 2020-07 in March (which has been extended from time to time), since that time, Illinois public bodies have been able to meet "remotely" due to the COVID-19 pandemic without having a physical quorum of the body present at the meeting place. 7.3 RAILS Reports

7.3.1 RAILS Monthly Report

Ms. Brennan reiterated her thanks for the outgoing board members. She welcomed incoming board member Alex Vancina to the meeting as well. Delivery resumed June 18th for the materials that had been stored in delivery hubs. Mr. Mills and Mr. Pointon did some deliveries for the Pinnacle Library group, and both stated they have a new and deeper appreciation for the job of RAILS delivery drivers. The first full delivery run is next Thursday, June 25. She said there is a lot of work going on at RAILS and our libraries; Ms. Heath is negotiating more deals for members relating to curbside discounts; "My library is ..." campaign and work on the census continues. The full plan to resume delivery is included in the board packet.

Ms. Brennan welcomed comments on the issue and her draft document: RAILS responsibilities to build a better society. She believes that RAILS cannot stay silent in the issue of equity of access. Mr. Pointon said he believes most RAILS Libraries will want to participate in any way and we can help by shedding light on how libraries can help in ways that they have not thought of. Currently in his library they are looking at ways to avoid confrontations between police and patrons and how to de-escalate without needing to call police. They discussed helping libraries with grants and training; supporting human library initiatives and best practices for implementation; legalities, toolkits, to develop faster and more complete training; guidance for new library school graduates on true stories of issues previous directors have faced; diversity in library schools, hiring, and early entry positions; libraries as re-educating all regarding diversity and diverse populations; how to advocate for diversity and how to find opportunities on how to be teachable. RAILS can develop a practical tool for members on methodology to look for bias in policies and procedures. The current system is set up to require a master's degree, perhaps this is an unfair barrier. To help with diversity of profession, we must question things we take for granted. Ms. Brennan said RAILS will start in-house with equity, diversity and inclusion training for staff. Changes needs to be real fundamental changes that can be seen. Ms. McHone-Chase said she has become aware of the phrase “do not make me responsible for your knowledge”, in other words do not look for answers from specific individuals when the knowledge is already out in the world. All agreed that the role of RAILS is to foster true conversation.

Ms. Runnels left the meeting at 2:05 p.m.

7.4 Illinois State Library Report:

Ms. Egan reported that the State Library has opened to the public using the state guidelines and precautions, with hand sanitizer, masks, plastic barriers as the reference and circulation desks and all employees have their temperature taken every morning upon entering the building. All remaining 2020 grant programs have been processed and all APC grant recipients should have received award letters. The public library APC grant deadline is extended to December 31.

The system APC FY21 grant applications have been reviewed and awards are coming soon with the advice to move forward with caution. Due to the cash flow issues, tax revenues are down, and we can expect delays in payments. The governor has signed the FY21 budget and the state library is moving forward with no modification ofr our fiscal requirements. direct appropriations to libraries were including in budget and they are in the process of contacting those libraries.
