Description

Lindop SD 92 is a one-school district in Broadview, Illinois. The district serves PK-8. The total enrollment is 342 students. Most students matriculate into the Proviso Township HSD 209. According to ISBE, 60% of students in the district qualify as low-income students. The district was suspended from membership in 2013.

Colleen Layton is the librarian at the E.F. Lindop School. This is her first year in the district. She previously worked at Saint Augustine College Library in Chicago and is familiar with RAILS. The district is interested in re-joining RAILS to be eligible for the ISL School District Library Grant. Colleen would also like to explore options for interlibrary loan. We also discussed eRead Illinois, deals & discounts, continuing education, and networking.

Description

University Club of Chicago is "a private members' club that is committed to fostering an appreciation of literature and the arts." Located in downtown Chicago, the club is member-owned entity that has been in operation since 1887. The club maintains a library that is open to members.

Dalia Mill is the University Club Librarian. She has been librarian there since December. She previously worked at the Linda Sokol Francis Brookfield Library and is familiar with RAILS. The library is interested in joining RAILS for access to e-books/audiobooks and exploring interlibrary loan. Dalia and I discussed grants, deals & discounts, networking, and more.
