Value Line ADA Compliance Commitment

Value Line is committed to delivering an accessible digital experience for users by the required date in April 2026. Value Line is committed to meeting all federal digital accessibility requirements under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). In alignment with federal ADA requirements and WCAG 2.2 AA standards, we are currently modernizing our digital research platform to ensure access for individuals utilizing assistive technologies, adaptive navigation tools, and inclusive interface features. Our upgraded platform will reflect the standards of accessible design, including enhanced readability, compliant visual contrast, scalable text, structured screen-reader tagging, and improved keyboard navigation support. These enhancements are being implemented in an attempt to meet ADA and WCAG 2.2 AA certification by April 2026.

Value Line will certify the status of ADA and WCAG 2.2 AA compliance in April 2026. Over the coming months, we will conduct structured testing and validation to ensure performance consistency across accessibility environments. We will provide an updated VPAT once available.
